AS MORE PEOPLE USE RVs AS HOMES, SHOULD CITIES FIND A PLACE FOR THEM? [1]

Submitted by Arts & Sciences Web Team on November 23, 2019 - 3:45pm

UW alum and lecturer Graham Pruss lived in an RV for five months as part of the research for his anthropology PhD, and discusses the feelings of unwelcomeness it brought from his community.

Featured on CBC [2]

Links